

SENTRO

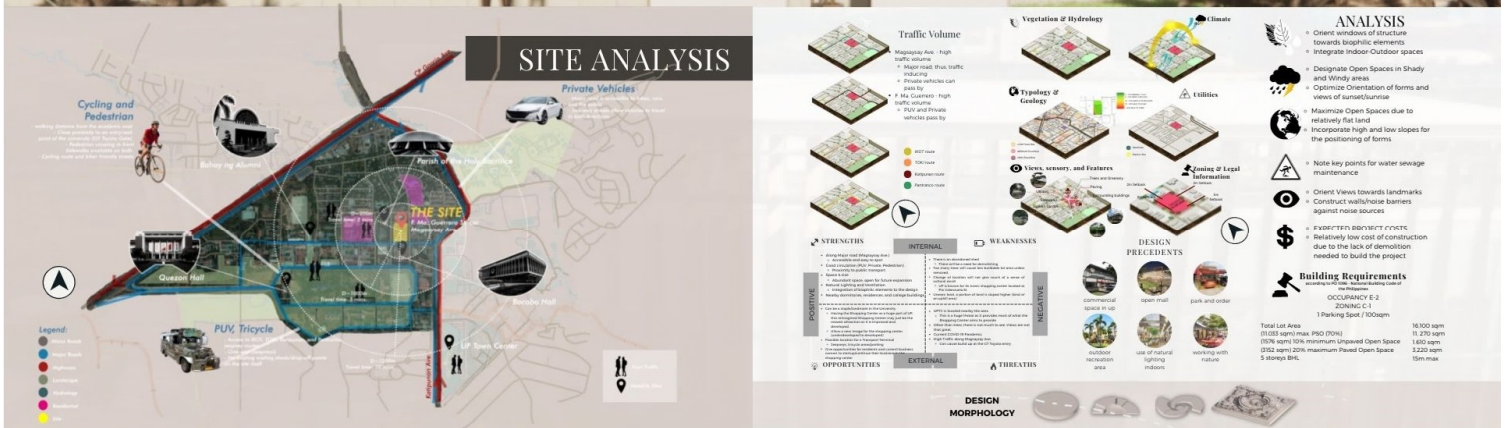

THE REIMAGINED SHOPPING CENTER

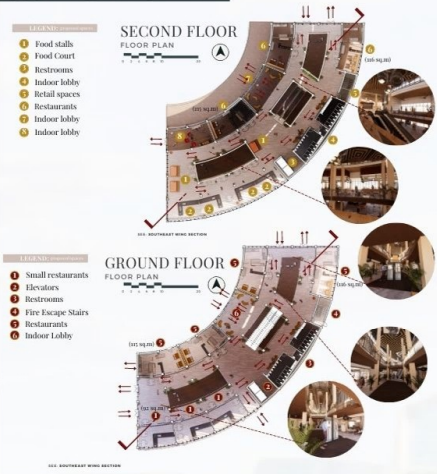

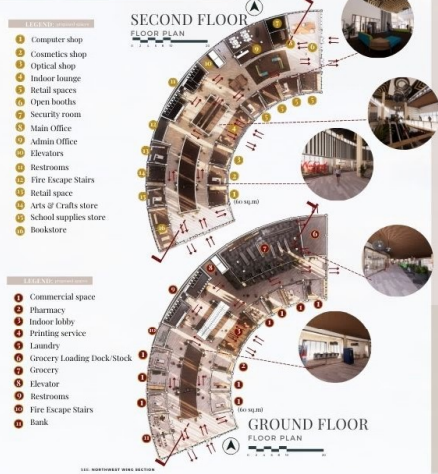

We were called to design a new Shopping Center in the UP Diliman Campus. Through site and client surveys conducted, it was evident that a reimagining of the Shopping Center was necessary to comply with safety COVID-19 guidelines and integrate new physical spaces that would benefit our view of contemporary student life.

The 16,100 sqm site, recommended for its adjacency to public transport and university landmarks, is situated along Magsaysay road and was chosen due to it meeting our array of site criteria and standards.

Our design concept revolves around a circular form factor. Although complex to design with, this form allows for a much more organic or continuous flow within our building - a form symbolic of the desire of the UP community for continuous progress versus the pandemic.

It was crucial for the design of the building to resemble the typical UP commercial space, similar to those located in Area 2 and other areas surrounding the site. Hence, biophilic elements like wooden louvers and the utilization of open spaces were heavily considered in the shopping center's design.

In the post-pandemic setup, this design solution allows for more outdoor activities as we consider that mall guests would feel more comfortable outdoors rather than being enclosed indoors.
